Abhishek Jain is currently serving as the Managing Director of Mirage Marble. With over 14 years of experience in the industry, Abhishek has paved the way forward for Mirage Marble to become one of the popular and respected brands in the stone industry, making the company an experience in the finest product that one can aspire for to make their space naturally chic and aesthetically supreme. He joined the family business soon after his Post-Graduation from the University of California, Berkeley. Mirage Marble imports rare natural stones from Europe, Iran, Canada, Vietnam, Turkey, Brazil and Africa and has come a long way in bringing premium stones from all corners of India and across the world. They were the first to introduce 20mm thick marble in India.

Tradition and workmanship hold a sacred place for Mirage Marble, wherein every piece of stone is carefully crafted and selected to complement a space. A symbiotic relationship between the stone and the intent of the space is their lifelong endeavour, to reimagine the artistry of Stone.
